

I believe adamantly that the companies that have built the Internet over these many years should NOT be wiped out by large monopolies! Competition has always been good for business and the consumer alike. Freedom of choice is important to me; and I believe everyone should have a choice of Internet service providers. Keep it open - keep it fair!